ASCOT.

THE BERYSTEDE,
SOUTH ASCOT.

(Amongst the lines. Green and Warm in Winter.)

"Is it a Private House or an Hotel?" is the question I asked myself. A dainty brougham, with coachman and footman in smart liveries, met us at the station, a butler and footman met us in the hall. Our luggage was unpacked for us in our rooms, which were not only twice the size of ordinary hotel bedrooms, but were furnished and appointed as only rooms are in the famous Country Houses of the best people—sumptuous, elegant, and in perfect taste, with fine genuine old furniture, and flowers, and dainty linen. The whole house, with its grand staircase, its lovely terrace, its well-rolled croquet and tennis lawns (there are five), its beautifully-kept gardens, orchards, kitchen gardens, glasshouses, and 30 acres of lovely pine woods, its Model Farm (perfect in its way), and wonderful stabling and motor-house, is an ideal home, unique in everything and perfect in every detail. The cooking and service are the best I have ever met with in England. One is invited to pluck the flowers and fruit. There is no charge for billiards, none for fires in one's bedroom, or baths, or lights, or attendance. The place was full of titled people, and yet the charges were much less than at most of the best hotels."

The above is not exaggerated. It is the desire of the proprietors to make a new departure. "The Berystede" is quite remarkable in every way. It is a most beautiful country house, situate in most beautiful country, near the Sunningdale Golf Links, a few minutes' walk from the station, with excellent hunting, and one hour from Town. Inclusive Winter Tariff three guineas per week, per person. For further particulars, apply to the MANAGERESS, The Berystede Hotel, Ascot. Telephone 29 Ascot.

VIRGINIA (U.S.A.) PLANTATION.

SABINE HALL.—Colonel Landon Carter built Sabine Hall in 1730, probably from his classical tastes, naming it after Horace's villa; and it remains to-day one of the finest old Colonial houses in Virginia, with its high ceilings, spacious rooms, and great wide halls; its walls adorned with family portraits, one of them is a very handsome likeness of "King Carter," and also one of Judith Armistead. There are pictures also of Colonel Landon Carter, and the three ladies who successively bore his name.

SABINE HALL.

Three miles above "Sabine Hall" is Mount Airy, the home, in Landon Carter's days, of Colonel John Taylor, and still owned by his descendants. Another near neighbour of Colonel Carter was Francis Lightfoot Lee, who lived at Menokin, and across the peninsula on the Potomac, a distance of ten miles, was Nomini Hall, and the Lee places, Stratford and Chantilly.

STAIRWAY AT SABINE HALL.

"Sabine Hall" Property is on the Rappahannock River, in Richmond County, and contains 4,000 acres, 2,000 of which is open arable land of very good quality, and the remainder in timber. There is sufficient marsh area, and fine hunting and shooting is obtainable on the place and in the immediate neighbourhood. The clear brooks, the streams, the river, all furnish abundant opportunity for fishing, and oyster privileges may be had.

"Sabine Hall" is historic, and a splendid old Virginia home. Some idea may be drawn from the views given, and the photographs on file at this office, but to be valued it must be seen. The farm is fully equipped with machinery and stock, and the entire Property and outfit is offered at £17,000.
